Situated along the coast of the Hudson Bay, the Churchill Wildlife Management Area (CWMA) is at the intersection of three distinct eco-zones: arctic marine, subarctic tundra and boreal forest. Hop aboard an official Tundra Buggy as it takes you to Polar Bear Point at the heart of the CWMA. Polar Bear Point lies directly within the migratory path of one of the largest polar bear populations in the world. Learn more about adventures including a Tundra Buggy excursion on pages 11-24.

Wildlife Guide

The province of Manitoba is home to a multitude of incredible creatures, making it the perfect place for a truly Canadian wildlife experience. Here are just a handful of the animals you could see when you travel with us.

POLAR BEAR There are approximately 1,000 polar bears in the Western Hudson Bay population, and the Churchill Wildlife Management Area (CWMA) hosts the largest concentration of bears in the area. Here bears spend their days lazing on the coast, sparring and playing as they await the forming of their sea ice hunting ground.

BELUGA WHALE There are approximately 55,000 beluga whales in the Hudson Bay population. An estimated 4.000 beluga whales spend their summer in the warm, fresh water of the Churchill River, giving birth and feeding on small fish. Belugas, known as the "canaries of the sea", are natural mimics and emit squeaks, pops, whistles and chirps in order to communicate with other whales around them.

ARCTIC FOX Arctic fox can be seen in the Churchill area year round, but have a habit of changing their colour to suit the season. In the summer their fur is brownish-grey, and in the autumn and winter their fur turns white to blend into their snowy surroundings.

RED FOX A variety of colour variations exist within the red fox population in the Churchill area. While the best known is perhaps the well known reddish hue, a cross fox is a colour variant which has a long dark stripe running down its back, intersecting another stripe to form a cross over the shoulders. A silver fox is vet another colour variation which tends to be mostly black or blue-grey with a white tip on its tail.

BISON Riding Mountain National Park (RMNP) is home to the Lake Audy Bison Enclosure, which houses a captive herd of 40 plains bison. Once near extinction in the area due to hunting, this herd's reintroduction into the area is the first step in restoring and protecting the prairie ecosystem.

BLACK BEAR Widely considered one of the top black bear destinations in North America, Manitoba is home to dense black bear populations throughout the majority of its regions, including RMNP. Despite their name, black bears are not always black - they can also be light brown, blond or even grey-blue.

MOOSE An enduring symbol of the Canadian outdoors, moose are plentiful in RMNP. The park's moose population is estimated at roughly 3,000 individuals. Moose calves are generally born in the spring, so at the peak of the summer season these leggy youngsters can be expected to weigh 109 kilograms (240 lbs) at just three months of age!

The Tundra Buggy Lodge

The Tundra Buggy Lodge, located in the heart of polar bear country, offers a unique, immersive experience where guests can fall asleep and wake up with polar bears right outside their window. Situated far from town within the Churchill Wildlife Management Area (CWMA), the lodge is also an optimal spot for northern lights viewing opportunities at night.

Our Tundra Buggy Lodge consists of two accommodation units, a lounge with skylights and a rooftop observation deck, a dining hall and staff quarters. Outdoor viewing platforms connect each unit and allow for outdoor photography.

"Imagine yourself in the middle of nowhere, surrounded by the vast tundra landscape... and polar bears."

- 2. Northern lights above the lounge
- 3. Seating for supper time
- 4. Lounging in the evening 5. Welcome to Dan's Diner
- 6. Bears at play
- 7. Rooftop observation deck

It's All About Location

The benefit of a lodge on wheels is that we can provide the best viewing access for our guests by positioning the Tundra Buggy Lodge in different locations throughout the seasons.

Polar Bear Point (autumn)

During the autumn, the Tundra Buggy Lodge is located at Polar Bear Point on the coast of the Hudson Bay in the CWMA. It is around this area that we see the highest density of polar bears in October and early November as they await the freezing of the bay.

Munck's Ring and Macri's Meadow (winter)

In February and March, during peak northern lights season, we transport our guests by Tundra Buggy across the frozen Churchill River to our exclusive Thanadelthur Lounge and Dan's Diner, strategically placed in historically significant spots along the riverbank, far from the lights of town for optimal northern lights viewing. Guests can view the dancing skies through panoramic windows and skylights, climb onto the lounge's rooftop observation deck for a completely unobstructed view or descend directly onto the river to watch and photograph the lights from below, weather permitting.

You may know Churchill as the Polar Bear Capital of the World, but as the saying goes, great things come in threes! This remote community of 900 people is also the Beluga Whale Capital of the World and is regarded as one of the best places on Earth to see the northern lights!

The best times to see Churchill's incredible wildlife and northern lights varies throughout the year. October and November are the best time to see polar bears roaming the wild tundra; July and August are the best time to see beluga whales frolicking in the Churchill River; and February and March are the best time to see the northern lights illuminating the vast night sky.

Experience One of the Seven Natural Wonders of the World

"As the skies began to darken we loaded onto a massive Tundra Buggy and headed across a frozen river to escape the distractions of Churchill's lights. Forty minutes later, we reached our desolate destination, and if as on cue, the lights began dancing across the sky. The ethereal shapes made by atmospheric gases slithered through the sky in shades of green that varied from deep emerald to bright neon, often resembling colourful smoke. Majestic hues of purple occasionally wove themselves through the sky like a ribbon, and the show went on for hours. We oohed, we ahhhed and we could not take our eyes off of them.

I realized that, once more, Churchill had taken my breath away — and this time, it had nothing to do with the frigid air."

Lately it feels like we've been thrust into an ongoing state of emergency response and it is exhausting. Forced to do life in a manner completely different from what we until recently considered normal, we are all doing our best to take care of our basic needs, keep our families safe, our businesses operating and teams gainfully employed.

At the same time, each of us have had the opportunity to step back and reevaluate where we're at individually and the role we play within our communities. How might our actions benefit those around us?

A couple of months into 'survival mode', I received a letter from guests Gretchen and Kit, who travelled with us in 2019. The letter speaks to the favourable experience they enjoyed in their dealings with Frontiers North, from their first interaction with us through to their experiences with our guides in the field, referring to our staff as "the type of people one would like to call a friend."

In stark contrast to all of the logistical and operational fine-tuning we pour into our guests' experiences with us, this letter didn't talk about price, inclusions or our tour compared to another that Gretchen and Kit may have considered; this letter made clear to me how the Frontiers North team made our guests feel.

This message could not have been more timely because it speaks to our purpose as a company: to be good stewards of the resources made available to us and to passionately share those resources with our guests. Especially in times of hardship, companies with a strong purpose tend to remain more steadfast in their direction and goals. And Frontiers North Adventures maintains a strong purpose; we have a great team and through it all it remains our pleasure to work hard to make sure your trip with us is as amazing as it can be.

I want to dedicate this letter to all the members of our Frontiers North Adventures team; and say THANK YOU for your ongoing contributions that make our guests feel safe and welcome during their precious time invested with us!

John Gunter

President and CEO, Frontiers North Adventures
