ADVENTURE THE ACTIVE WAY

SO MUCH MORE THAN A GUIDE

Imagine a cross between Bear Grylls, David Attenborough and a Four Seasons Hotel concierge and you'll get the idea of what our guides are like!

WE'RE WITH YOU, EVERY STEP OF THE WAY

Embarking on an adventure always involves getting out of your comfort zone. Our guides are there to take away any worry or stress, as well as handle all the logistics on the trip, so that you can focus purely on the physical challenge of your adventure.

WORLD-CLASS SAFETY

Safety is always a priority when you're exploring the wilderness, and we have an impeccable record. Our guides are trained extensively, have Outdoor First Aid and food safety certificates, and undergo our customized and comprehensive guide training trip.

We've received the World Travel and Tourism Council's Safe Travels stamp and the COVID-Clean Approved logo by Qualmark. We'll follow all ATTA, WTTC and Qualmark health and safety guidelines on all our trips.

AMAZING FOOD TO FUEL YOUR ADVENTURE

Food is such an important part of any trip - and getting the right fuel on an active holiday is crucial. We aim to provide high-quality, local and fresh food for every meal, whether you are in a back-country hut, a remote lodge or a small town. If you have dietarys, that's no worry at all. We cater to almost any dietary requirements.

LOCALLY OWNED ACCOMMODATION

We like to visit some exciting locations by bike, on foot, rafting, kayaking, and canyoning, but we also enjoy our creature comforts.

By traveling with us there's never the disappointment of not being able to stay at that perfect place!

NO HIDDEN COSTS

We have no hidden costs and everything is included. Everything is clearly laid out in our itineraries, so you don't have to do any guesswork.

Other tour operators charge what looks like a really cheap price, but it only covers road transport, a few meals here and there, guides, and accommodation. You can trust us to always be upfront with you.

EXPLORE NEW ZEALAND

► BAY OF ISLANDS

Beautiful beaches, pristine islands, energetic marine life, waterfalls, forests, history... The Bay of Islands is as dreamy as its name and you're spoiled for choice when it comes to the must-dos here!

► TONGARIRO NATIONAL PARK

Arguably the finest day-hike in the world, the Tongariro Crossing takes hikers on a dramatic journey through volcanic alpine landscape with a handful of steamy geothermal vents and vivid blue crater lakes that dot the perimeter.

► ROTORUA

New Zealand's indigenous culture is strong, particularly on the North Island. Here you can learn about New Zealand's Maori culture and through a performance and hangi, a feast that's steam cooked in the ground for a rich smoky flavor.

► QUEENSTOWN

With the vast range and popularity of adrenaline-inducing activities on offer here (it's home of bungee jumping after all!), it's no wonder this little ski town is known as the Adventure Capital of the World. Ski the famous Remarkables, hop on a wine tour, hike Ben Lomond, have a taste of Fergburger, bike down some spicy mountain bike trails or along more civilized scenic trails... you can't get bored!

► MILFORD SOUND & FIORDLAND NATIONAL PARK

Most people take a Milford Sound boat cruise, but we also recommend wandering the steep forest-clad mountains to discover wildlife and the waterfalls plunging into the fiord that Rudyard Kipling once called the 8th natural wonder of the world.

► AORAKI/MOUNT COOK NATIONAL PARK

The Canterbury region of the South Island is home to many of New Zealand's highest mountains and largest glaciers, including its namesake. Wander along the Hooker Valley Track or challenge yourself up the Sealy Tarns track - if you don't mind stairs!

► FRANZ JOSEF

Get your cameras ready because how often do you see glaciers surrounded by temperate rainforests advancing to near sea level? Never, in fact, except on the rugged West Coast of New Zealand's South Island, where there are some terrific short hikes near the Franz Josef and Fox Glaciers.

EXPLORE NEW ZEALAND

BEST TIME TO VISIT

New Zealand is a mountainous island nation sitting isolated in the Southwest Pacific, so the weather tends to be pretty unpredictable. The best time to visit for hiking and biking is between November and March - don't forget, the seasons are the opposite of the Northern Hemisphere!

Summer (December - February)

North Island weather: 20-24°C (68-75°F), 60-100mm of rain/month
South Island weather: 19-23°C (66-73°F), 35-60mm of rain/month
Highlights: hiking, biking, penguins

Fall (March - May)

North Island weather: 17-22°C (62-71°F), 90-130mm of rain/month
South Island weather: 13-19°C (55-66°F), 60-100mm of rain/month
Highlights: hiking, autumn colors, southern lights, cheaper flights

Winter (June - August)

North Island weather: 11-15°C (51-59°F), 120-150mm of rain/month
South Island weather: 7-12°C (44-53°F), 70-130mm of rain/month
Highlights: skiing, southern lights

Spring (September - November)

North Island weather: 16-20°C (60-68°F), 90-120mm of rain/month
South Island weather: 13-19°C (55-66°F), 60-100mm of rain/month
Highlights: skiing, hiking, lambing season

HOW TO GET IN AND AROUND NEW ZEALAND

People typically fly into Auckland (North Island) or Christchurch (middle of the South Island). New Zealand is roughly 1,600km (1,000 miles) in length, which is roughly the size of California and Washington State combined. Driving from top to bottom would take around 30 hours (the South Island doesn't have motorways and is very mountainous).

DRIVE:

renting a car or campervan is probably the most popular way to see New Zealand. The classic South Island driving loop is almost 3,000 km (40h) and the classic North Island loop is around 1,300km (20h). Don't forget - New Zealanders drive on the left side of the road!

BUS/COACH

many people opt for fully guided bus tours or hop on hop off buses. The thing with the big buses is that they're not very nimble and unsuitable for some roads - at Active Adventures, we use small vans, which are much more suited for the terrain!

TRAIN

New Zealand has some scenic train journeys (three, to be precise), but not ideal if you're after flexibility and have a specific itinerary in mind.

The only way to cross between the islands is to take a 3h ferry, which must be booked ahead in the peak season (especially if you have a vehicle), or fly from Auckland or Wellington to either Queenstown or Christchurch.

MAIN AIRPORTS

Auckland | Christchurch | Wellington | Queenstown | Nelson | Dunedin

ACTIVITY LEVELS

ACTIVE LEVEL 1: RELAXING

I like to be active and not looking to experience a place just through a bus window. I'm happy to slow down on the trail, soak it in and breathe in the fresh air.

Walking: 2-3 hours per day on gentle-gradient trails.
Other activities: On these trips, you'll be taking part in a range of other activities that focus less on building up a sweat and more on enjoying the finer things in life.

ACTIVE LEVEL 2: EASY

Sure, I own some hiking boots, they're even worn in, but they don't go on long trips. I like my creature comforts and I like to give a range of activities a go.

Walking: 2-4 hours per day on gentle to moderate gradient trails. No multi-day hikes.
Biking: 1-3 hours, cruisy rides achievable by anyone, even first-timers. Kayaking: 1-3 hours, entry-level sea kayaking with specialist guides and stable boats.
Other activities: Always optional and very little exertion. A highlight for many!

ACTIVE LEVEL 3: MODERATE

I love an active vacation. Engaging in a challenging activity with a difficult goal, such as reaching a summit, is exactly what I need to be able to unwind in the evenings.

Hiking: Typically, 3-6 hours per day on well-formed backcountry trails. Expect some significant gradient inclines and declines.
Altitude: Your trip may include some moderate altitude areas, though these don't form the focus of the trip and are generally manageable.
Biking: 1-3 hours on well-formed paths or roads where you can expect some hills with moderate climbs and descents.
Kayaking: 1-3 hours, entry-level sea kayaking with specialist guides and stable boats.

ACTIVE LEVEL 4: CHALLENGING

I'll let my trusty guides sweat the small things, so I can focus on my goal. Sure, it'll be tough and I might get my boots wet, but the views will be worth it.

Hiking/Trekking: Typically, 4–6-hour hikes with options for more, sometimes with limited or no vehicle support and often with ascents and descents.
Altitude: Some trips will reach a significant altitude. We are here to help you and make your experience one to cherish for a lifetime.
Biking & Kayaking: If one, or both, of these activities, are 'your thing,' there are trip options in this range, allowing you to be on bike or with a paddle in your hand for most of the day.

LEVEL 5: ULTIMATE

I'm ready to put in the hard work to reap the rewards. I'm a seasoned adventurer unafraid of adversity.

Trekking & Altitude: This is classic trekking, at altitude. Some might even call it 'expedition-style.' We've had folks from all walks of life achieve their dreams on our grade 5 trips, so if you're in for a challenge get in touch to find out if this is for you.

NEED HELP WITH TRAINING?

We have a comprehensive guide to what exercises you can do to prepare for each level, courtesy of Marcus from 'Fit for Trips'. If you want a customized plan, you can get in touch directly with him.

We've been fine-tuning this perennial favorite since 1996, and it's simply an incredible trip. We'll take you on an unforgettable journey exploring our mountains in Mount Cook National Park and Nelson Lakes National Park, walking the West Coast rainforest and getting up close to glaciers in Franz Josef, cycling incredibly scenic trails, hiking sections of our Great Walks, and even cruising on Milford Sound. You'll experience our unique culture and wildlife along the way. Each night, we'll stay in carefully hand-picked accommodations in some of New Zealand's most stunning settings.

This was our third visit to New Zealand and by far was the best. We really feel we got to see and experience everything the South Island has to offer. We loved our guides and enjoyed traveling and hiking with like-minded people from around the world.

SOUTH AMERICA

► MACHU PICCHU, PERU

Meaning “Old Peak” or “Old Mountain” in the native Quechua language, this Incan citadel stands at 2,400 meters (7,880 ft) above sea level along a narrow and uneven mountain vista. Hidden for centuries, its highly remote location makes it feel as if it's floating on a sheet of mist.

► ISABELA ISLAND, GALAPAGOS

The largest in the Galapagos archipelago, Isabela Island impresses with its vast lava fields, arid volcanic peaks and the largest population of wild tortoises on the islands.

► TORTUGUERO NATIONAL PARK, COSTA RICA

The exceptionally high rainfall and rich environment where the freshwater meets the sea make the beaches, canals, lagoons, and wetlands of Tortuguero areas of exceptional biodiversity and opportunity for nature lovers.

► PERITO MORENO GLACIER, ARGENTINA

This icefield is part of the world’s third-largest reserve of fresh water and forms a natural dam to the opposite shore that separates the two halves of Lago Argentino. You won't want to miss the blocks of ice crack off the glacier’s imposing face and fall into the pastel-blue waters of Lago Argentino.

► SACSAYHUAMÁN FORTRESS, PERU

The fortress, meaning ‘House of the Sun’, is where the Incas made their final stand against Spanish conquistadores. This magnificent archaeological site represents a set of jaguar's teeth with massive, perfectly fitted stones.

► LOS CUERNOS, CHILE

Spanish for ‘The Horns,’ Los Cuernos are three fantastically sculpted grey and white sedimentary and granite peaks that rise in dramatic contrast to the turquoise lake below.

► SAN CRISTOBAL ISLAND, GALAPAGOS

There are a number of renowned dive and snorkel spots off the island's coast including Kicker Rock and Isla Lobos ideal for spying on wildlife in and out of the water.

► LAGUNA DE LOS TRES, ARGENTINA

It's hard to imagine the views of the brooding Fitz Roy massif could get any better, but if you choose to make the steep climb up to Laguna de Los Tres, you'll be rewarded with close-up views of Monte Fitz Roy looming above a glacial lake.

EXPLORE

THE HIMALAYA

► KATHMANDU, NEPAL

Lively and bustling, this capital city features a labyrinth of back street courtyards, colorful market stalls, and ancient temples, making it the perfect introduction to Nepal's culture and friendly people.

► NAMCHE BAZAAR, NEPAL

With its remote alpine setting at 6187 meters (20,298 feet), Namche Bazaar is historically an important stopping point for trading expeditions and is still an important supply point for mountaineers and trekkers today.

► EVEREST BASE CAMP, NEPAL

Situated at the base of the Khumbu Icefall, the legendary camp has been the launching point for numerous expeditions for decades. During the climbing season, it becomes a vibrant village of brightly colored tents and palpable energy.

► ANNAPURNA BASE CAMP, NEPAL

Sitting at 4130 meters (13,549 feet), Annapurna Base Camp offers spectacular views of the south face of Annapurna I (the 10th highest peak in the world) and the glacier falling beneath it. There are few places - or words - that properly serve this destination well. You'll have to experience it yourself.

► JHONG CAVE, NEPAL

One of the most impressive cave monasteries the Mustang region has to offer, Jhong Cave is four stories high and boasts 40 secret meditation rooms and hidden storage chambers. It's here that Khampa warriors sought refuge, sometimes living years in these caves.

► TIGER'S NEST, BHUTAN

Paro Taktsang Monastery is, in one word, extraordinary. Built in 1692, the buildings are perched on the side of a cliff, 3,000 meters (10,000ft) above sea level, and still function as a monastery today.

► POKHARA, NEPAL

Pokhara is an enchantingly picturesque city on the shores of Phewa Lake. Here you can wade through the water to a temple in the middle of the lake or jump off a mountain into some of the best paragliding in the world.

► PUNAKHA DZONG, BHUTAN

This stunning traditional Bhutanese fortress is located between two rivers (you have to cross a bridge to access it). The most interesting thing about this building? Not one nail was used to create it... not one!

EXPLORE THE HIMALAYA

BEST TIME TO VISIT

Nepal has four distinct seasons and whilst each season offers something different for tourists visiting all year around, the best time for trekking in the Himalayas is during the pre and post-Monsoon periods and early/late winter.

WINTER

Late December, January, or early February – High-pressure systems bring clear skies and dry weather, and the temperatures are bearable during the day (actually quite nice in the sun), but as the sun sets the temperature falls quickly and it can get extremely cold at night. Some of the high passes can be unreachable because of snow.

PRE-MONSOON

March, April, May, and early June – The weather can be variable, but generally it is clear and calm in the mornings with overcast or thundery afternoons. The day and night time temperatures are gradually getting warmer as the season progresses. This is a great time of year to see rhododendrons in full bloom.

MONSOON

Mid-June, July, August, and early September – Low-pressure systems are predominant at this time of year and so there are frequent rain storms with high humidity and warm temperatures. There are fewer hikers around not only because the track can be blocked from slips caused by floods, but it's just not as comfortable walking in the downpour!

POST-MONSOON

Late September, October, and November – The cycle begins with a return to more stable weather conditions, cooling temperatures, and plenty of sunshine. With the monsoons recently over, the countryside is green and lush, the air sparkling clean, and the views of the Himalayas crystal clear.

ALTITUDE AND FITNESS

Most hikers will never experience altitude sickness, (sometimes called acute mountain sickness or AMS for short), because it typically only occurs at altitudes above 2,500m (8,300ft) or so. It's caused by a decrease in the density of the air (the percentage of oxygen in the air doesn't change much and remains the same to about ten times the height of Mt Everest!). With thinner air though, it becomes harder for the body to sustain mental and physical alertness. The rule of thumb above 3,000m is to hike no more than 300m (1,000ft) per day.

Everyone needs to be aware of the symptoms of altitude sickness as they can affect anyone at any time, even if you've been fine up at altitude before. Fitness has nothing to do with altitude sickness - despite some popular beliefs. Here are some of the common symptoms:

- Lack of appetite, nausea, or vomiting
- Fatigue or weakness, dizziness or lightheadedness
- Insomnia
- Pins and needles
- Nosebleed
- Persistent rapid pulse
- Peripheral edema (swelling of hands, feet, and face).
- Diarrhea

You can consult your doctor who will be able to prescribe you the most suitable medication and do check with them what sort of side effects you may experience.

AFRICA

► KRUGER NATIONAL PARK, SOUTH AFRICA

This world-famous park stretches across 20,000 square kilometers of land. Many of the surrounding private reserves have removed their fences, allowing wildlife to roam freely and unlike anywhere else on the planet.

► SERENGETI NATIONAL PARK, TANZANIA

From the fauna-rich Ngorongoro Crater (one of Seven Natural Wonders of Africa) to the fascinating Maasai tribes, this impressive park is set directly on the Great Migration route, an event considered 'the greatest show on earth.'

► NGORONGORO CRATER, TANZANIA

The world's largest intact volcanic caldera, the crater forms a bowl of about 265 square kilometers and is said to have the highest density of wildlife anywhere in Africa. On the crater floor, you'll likely see zebra, wildebeest, eland, and gazelle, plus a wide variety of birds.

► VICTORIA FALLS, ZIMBABWE

Although the falls are neither the tallest nor the widest on earth, they're still classified as the biggest, due to their combination of width and height and astounding flow rate of more than 1,000 cubic meters of water every second! The town of Victoria Falls is often known as the adventure capital of Africa.

► OKAVANGO DELTA, BOTSWANA

Known as the 'Jewel of the Kalahari' the delta is considered to be one of the greatest wilderness spectacles on the planet. Comprised of 15,000 square kilometers of water channels, lagoons, and islands, it's one of the most concentrated areas of wildlife on earth.

► CAPE TOWN, SOUTH AFRICA

Visit the bustling streets, old buildings and squares, and learn about its complex history. For brilliant views over Camps Bay and the city, you can hike or take the cable car to the top of the iconic Table Mountain.

► MOUNT KILIMANJARO, TANZANIA

At 5,895 meters (19,341ft) above sea level, it's the highest peak in Africa. There are multiple routes to reach Uhuru Peak, the summit, but our favorite is the Lemosho route. Longer than others, it allows for more acclimatization time and more spectacular scenery.

► MAASAI COMMUNITY, TANZANIA

Well known internationally due to their residence near many game parks of the African Great Lakes, the local Maasai communities and their distinctive customs and dress will engage your senses and open your heart.
